

How do balance transfers work?

Audio transcript

Balance Transfer: It's simply moving all or part of your debt from one credit card onto another with a lower rate for a period. This can help you save money on interest payments, as well as help organise your finances, by combining your debt in just one place.

And if you still have any questions, you can use our live chat, or check out our FAQ sections.