

Do I need life insurance?

Audio transcript

If you have loved ones who depend on you financially, it's worth considering life insurance.

A lump sum can be paid to support those you leave behind, if you pass away.

The amount of money needed depends on what you want to cover.

From looking after your children, to paying off your mortgage.

Monthly payments are fixed.

And the younger you are, the cheaper your quote will be.